“ I worked with sylvia for many many years and was so sorry to hear of her passing. One thing that I will always remember is that she loved and adored her husband Jack, she was a devoted wife and mother. During Christmas time at work we had an ornament gift exchange game in which we could steal from another person the ornament they unwrapped if we really wanted a particular ornament. I really wanted the ornament Sylvia had brought in and I remember her telling me that if I didn't end up with it that she would buy me another one of it.... That's the type of person she was. Well, I ended up with it..... the red ruby slippers ornament from the wizard of oz. Every Christmas since I have hung it on my tree as it's one of my favorite ornaments. I will continue to hang it on my Christmas tree every year for the rest of my life and when I hang it i will always think of my coworker friend Sylvia. Sylvia rest in peace. My prayers go out to the Davault family.
